

SANTA BIBLIA PROJECT

During a mission trip to Honduras, one of the team members, Brian Safarian, began a new project by providing and giving away Bibles written in Spanish. In October of 2007, Brian raised enough money to give away 4,000 Bibles. The response of the people in Honduras was remarkable. They were lining up and calling for it by name “Santa Biblia”. They were so grateful for the gift of God’s Word in their language.

When the Lord originally laid it on Brian’s heart to take on this project, he met an American in Honduras who had been bringing Spanish Bibles to Honduras over the past 30 years (Brian actually overheard him talking about Illinois and struck up a conversation). God was providing a way to get Bibles to Honduras.

George has provided Brian with the name of a Spanish Bible supplier and miraculously is willing to transport the Bibles by truck from Iowa to Florida and then on to Honduras. It is a difficult multi-week tour, especially for a man in his 70’s, but it is what he is meant to do.

Because of this gift of transportation (we only pay his travel costs) the Bibles cost a total of $1.50 each. Contributions for the Bibles can be made anytime during the year. Brian is attempting to raise $6,000 to have 4,000 Bibles for the next mission trip. If providing Spanish Bibles to the people of Honduras is a mission that appeals to you, please send your tax deductible donations to:
